Toastmasters International

From a humble beginning in 1924 at the YMCA in Santa Ana, California, Toastmasters International have grown to become a world leader in helping people be more competent and comfortable in front of an audience. This nonprofit organization has nearly 235,000 members in 11,700 clubs in 92 countries, offering a proven – and enjoyable! – way to practice and hone communication and leadership skills.

"Toastmasters has played a tremendous role in building my self-confidence and communication skills"
- Tom Peters

The Toastmasters' solution

Most Toastmasters meetings are comprised of approximately 20 people who meet weekly for an hour or two. Participants practice and learn skills by undertaking a meeting role, ranging from giving a prepared speech or an impromptu one to serving as timer, evaluator or grammarian. There is no instructor; instead, each speech and meeting is critiqued by a member in a positive manner, focusing on what was done correctly and what could be improved. Toastmasters help you develop the talent you do not know you have. You can become an excellent communicator and leader. Toastmasters share their expertise and give you a safe place to practice where you can contribute with your enthusiasm and knowledge.
